

My target pain score

This sign is a visible tool used to remind the nursing staff and the patient to discuss the patient's comfort-function goal. The sign is posted in the patient's room, within view of the patient. Note the inclusion of possible interventions, which are discussed with the patient.

